In the assessment of the Company all essentials information was included in this report.

10. List of factors that in the Issuer's assessment will influence the obtained results in the perspective of at least successive quarter of the year.

Over the next half-year the Company is planning to continue the hitherto assumed strategy of development. which, owing to experience and the increased production capabilities, should be reflected in the Issuer's further growth of market share in the national market for dried fruits and nuts and increased shareholder value. The Issuer's results in the perspective of the next quarter will be significantly influenced by typical for the industry increased sales during the pre-Easter season. Moreover the benefits of the business activity relocation into the new production and warehouse complex in Brochów should be more and more noticeable, and thus will have a positive impact on the company's results, in particular at the EBITDA level. One should also take into account that according to development assumption of the company, in the coming years, the company's net profit will be charged relatively high costs of depreciation and financial costs resulting from payment of interest on investment loans. In the longer term, however, these costs should decrease.

As regards the macroeconomic factors affecting the results of HELIO S.A. a special attention should be paid to the situation prevailing in the raw material and currency markets. Increasing prices of raw materials, and an unstable rate of exchange of the Polish currency, especially in relation to USD and EUR, affect negatively on the activities of the Issuer. Although the company has the opportunity to renegotiate the prices of sold products with its customers, adapting them to current market conditions, it is the process extended in time and implying a temporary decrease in margins on the Company's sale.

In conclusion, it is worth noting that the internal determinants shaping the results of the Issuer in the second half of fiscal year 2012/2013 are promising. The company has made since the last time a lot of effort giving the potential for further dynamic development of its sales and improvement of profits. Although the harmony of the positive factors is disturbed by unstable macroeconomic situation, particularly in the raw material market, the development perspectives of HELIO S.A. seem to be invulnerable.

11. Description of the significant risk and threat factors with specification to what extent the Issuer is exposed to them

Risk related with the competition

The Company is exposed to competition of other entities functioning on the market of retail sale of nuts and dried fruits. The market of nuts and dried fruits in Poland is characteristic of a significantly scattered structure. On the Polish market there are present several companies with nationwide range as well as smaller local entities. The competition may lead to the decrease in the margins obtained in sale or in extreme case to the partial loss of clients. In order to eliminate this risk, the Company pursues the activities designed to strengthen the strong market position through delivering the high quality products, building the brand familiarity, adjusting the trade offer to the needs of the clients as well as through the constant expanding of the range of products.

The risk of fluctuations of the prices of the raw materials

HELIO S.A. is a commercial company of crude foodstuffs and is exposed to the risk of price fluctuations. Periodically such fluctuations may affect the margins of sale obtained by the Company. The level of the prices of the crude foodstuffs is affected by the factors beyond the control of the Company, such as: the size of crops in a given year, climatic conditions affecting the quality and accessibility of the raw materials of required quality. In order to retain the high current profitability of sale, owing to the experienced personnel, the Company will try to relatively earlier response to the prevailing market situation, above all including: to increase the stock of raw materials whose price is going to increase and to adequately early renegotiate the prices of products with the clients.

The risk of foreign currency exchange rates

Due to the fact that the Company imports directly from the countries of origin a significant part of the raw materials necessary to prepare the products, the rate of the foreign currencies may influence onto the Company's financial results. In order to reduce the negative influence of the foreign currency exchange rates on the financial results, the Company currently monitors the currency market by adopting proper measures. Managing the risk of foreign currency, the Issuer takes use of internal instruments, including, first of all, the Issuer adjusts pricing conditions offered customers to the costs of purchase of the raw material. Neither at present the Company takes use of external instruments (for example: an option, futures, forward, CIRS), nor in the period of the first half of business year 2012/2012 the Company was a party in the referred type of agreements.

The risk of seasonality of sale and inventories

In the Company's activity there occurs the tendency of a significant seasonality of sale. The highest sale of nuts and dried fruits falls in the period before Christmas and Easter. The sale of nuts and dried fruits is the lowest in the summer time due to the level of accessibility of fresh fruits which in this period constitute competitive goods. At the same time, preparing to the period of increased sale, the Company purchases nuts and dried fruits in the period when the sale is the lowest.

The risk related with the globalization on the market of the major clients

The phenomenon of merging the major global super- and hypermarkets chains causes the changes on the market of the Company's clients. This phenomenon causes the lack of possibility of the risk diversification by the clients. In general the merged chains aim at the centralization of the purchase and more frequently the suppliers cooperating with the chain which was the overtaking chain are chosen. In order to protect against the risk of losing the greatest clients, the Company possesses agreements concluded with the majority of market chains functioning in Poland and tries to reach more and more other distributors and activate new distribution's channels.

The risk of losing the key employees

The key employees constitute the significant value of the Issuer. Their loss could negatively influence the relations with major clients and suppliers. The employing of the new specialists would be connected with a long-lasting recruitment process as well as the implementation of the newly-employed persons, which in turn would delay the date of achieving the expected efficiency. Therefore, the Company decided to undertake a series of activities from the scope of the managing of the human resources, such as providing seniority bonus schedule, incentive bonus schedule, signing contracts for employment with hitherto contractors.

The risk of major shareholders impact onto the decisions of the Company's bodies/authorities

After the issuing of the Series B Shares, the share of the dominant shareholder, Mr. Leszek Wąsowicz, in the total number of votes at the General Meeting of Shareholders amounts to over 77%. A significant share in the total number of votes provides him with the factual control over decisions made in the Company and limits the impact of the new shareholders. Furthermore, Mr. Leszek Wąsowicz, President of the Management Board, is the entity dominating against the Issuer under the Act of the Offer. Mr. Leszek Wąsowicz, President of the Management Board, owns directly 3,857,000 of the Issuer's Series A shares which currently entitle to 3,857,000 votes at the Issuer's General Meeting of Shareholders, what constitutes 77.1% of the share in the share capital and votes at the Issuer's General Meeting of Shareholders.
